“My eyes have seen your salvation, which you prepared in the sight of all the peoples.”

Luke 2:30

Presentation of Jesus at the Temple by Cornelis de Vos, 1620
St. Paul reminds the good people of Corinth, in this weekend’s second reading, that God chooses the foolish of the world to shame the wise, and the weak to shame the strong. Throughout the Gospel, Jesus is challenging His listener’s worldly perspective with parables, teachings and examples that can perplex the mind frame of those He is speaking to. Remember when He is trying to correct the apostles as to who is the greatest and He pulls a little child into their midst to show what they must become like in order to attain the Kingdom of God?

The Sermon on the Mount, the beginning of which is our Gospel passage this weekend, is a game changer for those who are listening to the words of our Savior. The Beatitudes do not heap praise and honor on the comfortable, the powerful or the famous. They hold up the poor, the lowly, the often overlooked or dismissed as the ones who are in fact blessed in the Kingdom of God.

We often hear from our culture that fame, power, money and pleasure are the hallmarks of a life well lived. Our Lord never says that. The fact that He has different standards that reflect the blessed of God, those close to the Father, should give us pause to reevaluate that which we use as the measure of success, and a life well lived.

I would venture to say that the life of Kelley Contreras, a staff member for several years here at St. Thomas More, whose life ended with a massive cardiac arrest a couple weeks ago, is a wonderful example of this. Kelley and her family never sought fame, fortune or the power that the world adores. Yet upon her death, notice of the loss was felt, recognized and mourned by individuals from around the parish, the country and even other places in the world. Her love of God, witnessed in many ways but especially in her devotion to music and liturgy that would bring folks, particularly the youth, into a greater awareness of God’s love for them, was a burning component of her amazing life.

Over the years, her peaceful and compassionate attitude brought many to the awareness that they, in whatever ways the Lord has blessed them, can in turn give back to the Lord by their love for Him, and their helping others to know of His love for them. She opened the hearts and minds of many over the decades to the presence of God’s caring existence.

I would ask you to pray for Kelley. Pray for her husband Ed and their children. And pray for the many, young and not so young, who feel a great loss in their lives without her physical presence to encourage and love them in the name of the Lord, and in a manner that constantly evidenced the Beatitudes.

– Msgr. Tom
Blessing of Throats

St. Blaise, pray for us!

Come for the Blessing of the Throats on the Feast Day of St. Blaise.

Monday, February 3:
After the 6:30AM and 9:00AM Masses

Saint Blaise was the bishop of Sebaste in Armenia during the fourth century. Very little is known about his life. According to various accounts he was a physician before becoming a bishop. He was reputed to have miraculously cured a little boy who nearly died because of a fish bone in his throat. From the eighth century he has been invoked on behalf of the sick, especially those afflicted with illnesses of the throat.

a reflection on today’s feast

Even though we are reading from the gospel of Matthew this year, today’s feast falls on a Sunday and therefore trumps the Ordinary Time readings. Since two female saints, Mary and Anna, are featured in the account, you can bet that Luke is the author. He loves to tell us stories about women, especially Mary, and we love to hear them.

This story is all about timing. Mary and Joseph waited the prescribed forty days and then entered the Temple. Simeon was led by the Spirit to go there that day, and Anna purposely placed herself in the Temple every day so that she could bear witness to God’s perfect timing.

Have you ever been at the right place at the right time? So often it’s only in looking back that we recognize the perfect timing that led us to our spouse, or to our friends, or to faith itself. But much of “perfect timing” has to do with aligning ourselves with grace. Mary and Joseph complied with the Law. Simeon complied with the Holy Spirit. And Anna complied with her inner knowledge that if she was to see her Savior, she needed to stay in the Temple.

We live our lives immersed in mystery. We are astounded at the perfect timing of many events in our lives. Somehow, we intuitively sense the Divine, and situate ourselves to be receptive to the presence of Christ, visible and invisible. It’s in that patient day-to-day watchfulness that our lives unfold. And one day, in God’s own time, we too will say: Lord, dismiss your servant in peace, for my eyes have seen your salvation.

Do you ever feel overwhelmed? Or the opposite – like something is missing in your life?

The reality is we’ve probably all experienced those kinds of moments in life. We all have a deep desire to feel like we belong—and as Catholics, to feel welcome in our own parish.
